HUN DRIVES ARE STOPPED ANOTHER BLOW EXPECTED

Efforts of German High Command to Crush the French Between Montdidier and Soissons Fail Miserably.

FRENCH NOW EXPECT BLOW AT ENGLISH

Americans Repulse More German Attacks.

Only Local Fighting on Entire Front.

Associated Press Dispatch.

GERMAN attacks on each side of the French salient between Montdidier and Soissons seem to have been definitely checked.

Halted in their rush toward Compeigne and unable rapidly to outflank the French by their onslaught southeast of Soissons, the Germans apparently have ceased their plunging tactics which began last Sunday and for a time threatened vital French positions. The French official statement says only local fighting has occurred along the front of attack during the last few hours.

The latest German attempt to break through the French lines lasted only five days.

The Germans have been held north of the Aronde and Matz rivers to the west of the Oise. They have failed to make serious attacks against the new French positions east of that river. Southwest of Soissons they advanced approximately a mile over a four mile front, but their progress was very slow.

Sectors further south which include the points where the American forces are fighting, have been heavily bombarded but no further infantry attacks have been launched.

An inference that might be drawn from the adherent haste in beginning their great attack east of Montdidier almost as soon as their sweeping advance in the Aisne front had been checked at the Marne is that another German offensive may be launched at once. It is probable, according to French opinion, that this blow will fall on the British front further north either in front of Amiens or in the Flanders sector where the Germans may attempt to cut their way through to the channel ports.

Between the southern edge of the Villers-Cotterets forest and Chateau-Thierry, American troops celebrated the anniversary of the arrival of American troops in France by repulsing violent enemy attempts to drive them from their recently won positions at Belleau Wood and Bovesches.

French troops in operations in eastern Albania have driven the Bulgarians from eleven villages and have occupied territory on a front of 11 miles to a depth of 9 miles.

"IT'S YOUR FAIR," WINS FIRST PRIZE

Columbus, O., June 14. — Announcement has been made by the management of the Ohio State Fair that Mrs. Sarah Hute, of Rural Route No. 1, Lisbon, Ohio, has been awarded the $10 prize offered for a slogan for this year's fair, which will be held at Columbus the last week in August.

"It's Your Fair," was Mrs. Hute's prize-winning slogan. Her's was the only one of the thousands submitted that was expressed in those exact words. The judges were unanimous in their decision.

Slogan suggestions came from practically every state in the Union, from Canada and from Ohio boys on Uncle Sam's warships on the high seas. A number of soldiers in various army camps also were contestants.

Ideas embodying patriotism and war were numerous. "Over The Top," "We're Going Over," "On To Berlin," "Do Your Bit," "Carry On," "Over There," "Win The War," and "Uncle Sam First" were suggested frequently. "Over The Top" and "We're Going" were suggested several hundred times.

Preparations for this year's fair are in progress on an extensive scale. Assurances have been given that use of the fair grounds for an aviation camp by the government will not interfere with the fair.

WHEAT HARVEST IS NEAR AT HAND

Wheat harvest is now near at hand and there is every indication that a large amount of wheat will be harvested in June, and that harvest will be fully two if not three weeks earlier than last year, when harvest came during July as result of continued rains which kept the wheat from ripening at the usual time.

While the heads are not as well filled as they were last year, there is a noticeable increase in the stand of wheat, and it is believed that what it lacks in number of grains to the head will be largely made up in increased number of heads to the acre.

There is every indication that, taken as a whole, Fayette county's wheat crop will be a banner one.

CRUELTY CHARGED DIVORCE SOUGHT

In the common pleas court Cora McGinnis asks for divorce from Albert McGinnis, on the grounds of gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty. Divorce, alimony and custody of a 12 year old child are sought.

Marriage of the couple occurred in Good Hope, November, 1915, and the plaintiff declares that since November, 1917 the defendant has wholly failed to contribute anything to her support or to the support of their child, but has spent his money in gambling and dissipation.

Plaintiff claims defendant has repeatedly struck and abused her, threatening her life. Rankin & Rankin represent the plaintiff.

"The Unbeliever" may be seen at the Wonderland June 20 and 21—one of the greatest war pictures ever produced.

EIGHT FORD FARM TRACTORS ON WAY

Fayette county gets an allotment of eight Ford farm tractors, which are being distributed through the Ford agency in this city—The Ortman Motor Company,—at actual cost to the company, in connection with the greater crop production plan of the federal government.

These eight tractors, only a part of which have been sold, are now on their way from the factory in Michigan, and should arrive in this city within a short time.

Under the plan of Henry Ford, who is co-operating with the government and placing 20,000 of the tractors in the hands of farmers at cost, in order to assist in greater crop production, the tractors are divided among 20 states. Also an additional 7,000 of them have been sent to England to speed up crop production in that country.

A short time ago The Ortman Motor Company gave a check for the entire eight tractors, and the tractors were ordered shipped at once, and will be placed in the hands of local farmers who are first to file their orders, without one cent profit to The Ortman Motor Company.

The Ford tractor is said to be one of the best all round tractors obtainable, and will be handled by The Ortman Motor Company.

FACING STARVATION SAYS DR. ADRIAN

"The human race is face to face with actual famine," declares Dr. Henry A. Adrian, the famous Pacific Coast educator, writer and orator, the friend and confidante of Luther Burbank. "The gaunt grey spectre of starvation is lurking just ahead of us, within the war cloud which enshrouds the earth. And peace will not banish it. Rigid saving will help only a little."

"How then shall the world be fed?" Dr. Adrian's answer, which he gives in his lecture, "New Ways of Feeding the World," to be heard on the opening day of the Chautauqua, is complete and convincing, and as vivid and thrilling as eloquence can make it. The world he reveals is a new world, and its exploration with him will be for you a rich surprise and a rare delight.

WERTER MANN HAS VERY CLOSE CALL

Werter Mann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cary Mann, Route 5 this city writing from France under date of May 18th tells of his closest call so far, when a machine gun bullet struck his canteen while he was with other members of M Company in going over the top.

He tells of how the Americans took the third line German trenches and the coolness of the men under fire.

"We were not excited at all and the farther we went the more angry we got," he declares.

Continuing he says in part: "Old Company M has sure changed since we left Washington. Everybody is healthy and hard as iron. There is not a man who would surrender to a Boche. When the Boches begin shelling us, we send five shells to their one."

Don't be worried about us. We will get back all O. K. It may be a year or so before we get back, but we are coming back all right."

COBB WILL BRING FIRST HAND NEWS OF BATTLE FRONT

A little less than four years ago Irvin S. Cobb, the brilliant newspaper reporter, short story writer and humorist who has been declared by competent critics to possess the keenest insight into American characteristics of any writer since Mark Twain, was in Belgium, reporting the first advances of the German army into that territory.

His lectures, delivered in the leading theaters of a few of the largest cities of the country, following his return to America, attracted the largest crowds assembled to hear any speaker since Henry M. Stanley's historic tour.

Now Mr. Cobb is to come to the Chautauqua, fresh from a special tour of observation and investigation on the western battle front, to bring first hand impressions of the titanic struggle raging in France. In securing him the Chautauqua management has unquestionably afforded the people of this city an opportunity of hearing the most pertinent offering of the Chautauqua year.

As he expressed it, in an article contributed to the Saturday Evening Post of June 1st, he has been "at the front of the front." His story of the fighting in France and Flanders will thrill every hearer, but it would not be typical of Cobb if it were not shot through with bits of humorous description and keen analysis of incident and individual.

HEALTH OFFICER DISCUSSES WATER USED BY THE CITY

Health Officer John Byron, Friday afternoon, stated that in his opinion the bad condition of the city water at the present time is due to one of two things; either the creek water is reaching the pumping station in an unfiltered condition, or else the taking of water from the mains for street flushing purposes causes a pronounced unsettled condition in neglected city water mains, with the result that sediment is stirred up and an odor comes from the sediment.

Health Officer Byron is inclined to believe the latter reason is the cause, but recalls the fact that after heavy rains when flood conditions have resulted about the pumping station since the dam across Paint creek was erected a couple of years ago, that an unpleasant taste and odor has been noticeable in the city water, indicating that improperly filtered water from the creek was responsible for the condition of the water. In making inspections of the conditions surrounding the wells near the pumping station, it is necessary to use a boat, and it is not only possible but probable that where wells are surrounded by creek water, that some of it reaches the interior and ultimately the water mains, is in an improperly filtered condition.

AIRPLANES LAND ON STORY FIELD

Four airplanes from the Wright Field Fairfield, reached this city about three o'clock Friday afternoon, landing on the Story field, immediately east of this city, and a short time afterward were surrounded by a throng of spectators.

DISPLAY OF FLAGS THROUGHOUT COUNTY

"Flag Day", anniversary of the birth of the Stars and Stripes, was generally observed in the city and county with a most generous display of the National colors.

From almost ever home and place of business the flag was unfurled while bunting was used abundantly.

Fully one-third of the bags displayed, it is estimated, were not properly displayed, many hanging the flag with the blue field of stars on the left, when the proper way is to hang the flag so that the field of stars is in the upper right hand corner, or so that when the right lower corner of the flag is grasped and raised upward, and to the right the field of stars will be at the top of the flag instead of at the bottom.

PRINCETON SENDS MANY TO THE WAR

By Associated Press Dispatch. Princeton, N. J., June 14.—After having sent 3,322 undergraduates, alumni, faculty members, trustees and other officials to the war, Princeton University on June 23 next will become a "military college." A three-year course of training and instruction approved by the General Staff of the United States Army will on that day be inaugurated and every student will be under strict military discipline and eat and sleep like soldiers in barracks instead of their more comfortable dormitories.

For months Princeton University has taken on the aspect of a training camp for here more than 700 men from all parts of the country, students in the government School of Aeronautics, have been coached in the theory of flying preparatory to being sent to Mineola, Pensacola, San Diego and other aviation centres.

The War Department sometime ago made it possible for any college having a Reserve Officers' Training Corps to adopt the system which is soon to go into effect here. Yale, Amherst and other institutions are understood to be considering its adoption but Princeton will be the first university to put into actual operation.

Partial List From Division Headquarters.

The local Red Cross is now working upon a hundred and fifty comfort kits, the latest order from the Lake Division. Only a partial list of the work assigned to the Fayette chapter has as yet been received. It includes a hundred packages for the refugees children.

All the yarn lately received has been given out and a new shipment is expected.

RED CROSS ACTIVITIES

Up To You, Women

The Red Cross must have more sweaters and socks for the Ohio soldier boys who will probably be in France all next winter. Knitting for soldiers is a useful, patriotic work. Tatting is non-essential.

Women who are idle, selfish, or even indifferent, are aliens—alien to America.—Ohio War Board.

Red Cross Canteens

Paris—Five American portable laundries have been installed at base hospitals by the American Red Cross. They are a real novelty in France.

Children in the public schools of Porto Rico are making pajamas for the use of the American Red Cross. There is one chapter of the Red Cross all Indian in membership. It is at Belmont, N. D.

An American Red Cross canteen worker in France recently shattered all records in France by serving 265 meals in two hours and a half, or an average of one meal every thirty-four seconds.

Since troop movements to the eastern seaboard have reached extraordinary proportions, many chapter refreshments have surpassed the record set by the Washington chapter last September—that of serving 20,000 cups of coffee in a day.

PERMIT SMOKING

London, June 10.—Three more of the first-class London theaters have capitulated to the lure of tobacco. All the vaudeville or variety houses and seven of the best "legitimate" theaters now permit smoking, but it is still barred at about a dozen good theaters.

YOUR FLAG AND MY FLAG

Your flag and my flag,
And how it flies today
In your land and my land
And half a world away!
Rose-red and blood-red
The stripes forever gleam;
Snow-white and soul-white—
The good forefathers' dream;
Sky-blue and true-blue, with stars to gleam aright—
The glorious guidon of the day, a shelter through the night.

Your flag and my flag!
And oh, how much it holds—
Your land and my land—
Secure within its folds!
Your heart and my heart
Beat quicker at the sight;
Sun-kissed and wind-tossed—
Red and blue and white.
The one flag—the great flag—the flag for me and you—
Glorified all else beside—the red and white and blue!
—Wilbur D. Nesbit.

FINE TRIBUTE GIVEN "BUCK"

"Passing the Buck" was the clever title of a dinner given by Manager N. A. Court at the Chittenden Hotel, Wednesday, signaling the removal of Mr. L. W. Buckmaster, District Passenger Agent of the Hocking Valley, from the Chittenden Hotel building.

Mr. Buckmaster will continue with the Hocking Valley road after the consolidation of the ticket office with the other offices, at 70 East Gay street. The new office will be open next Monday morning.

Washington friends of Mr. Buckmaster, and they are legion, share in the interest of this dinner, which was in recognition of the valuable services rendered by Mr. Buckmaster during twenty-four years in this office. Great things have happened during this quarter of a century and a summary, compiled by the host, aroused keenest interest.

This review of notable events, among the most wonderful in American history and transpiring while Mr. Mr. Buckmaster has been a tenant of the Chittenden building was presented on one page of a souvenir menu booklet showing the Chittenden on the cover and a splendid picture of the distinguished honor guest at the top of the elaborate menu.

Among these events were cited the marvelous growth of the use of electricity; sixty thousand miles of railroad built; the development of Interurban railways; the building of New York subways; the development of the sky-scraper; talking machines placed on market; motion picture machines invented; the discovery of Roentgen rays and radium the first noteworthy wireless experiment; wonderful progress in surgery the growth of the automobile business, following the bicycle craze.

The schedule of events noted in history includes the Spanish-American war beginning in 1897; William McKinley assassinated, Sept. 6, 1901 the North Pole discovered April 6, 1909; the South Pole discovered, December 14, 1911; the Titanic sunk, April 15, 1912; the Panama Canal open to navigation in 1913; the Lusitania sunk on May 7, 1915 being one of the most important factors precipitating the entrance of the United States into the war and other events of national interest.

FAMOUS BURBANK MAN IS COMING TO TOWN

With America, the greatest food producing nation in the world, subsisting on "war bread" and with a third of the civilized world actually hungry for many of the necessities of life—with admonitions to save wheat and meat staring Americans in the face the time is ripe for the lecture of Prof. Henry A. Adrian, announced for the opening day of the Chautauqua, on the subject "New Ways of Feeding the World."

Prof. Adrian is unusually qualified for the task of discussing this subject. He is the personal friend of Luther Burbanks, the plant wizard, and familiar with the marvelous work of that marvelous man bearing on the subject which he is to discuss. He has the authority of Mr. Burbank to explain many of the great achievements in plant culture which have amazed the world, and uses in his lecture some actual specimens of Burbank's handiwork.

Even without this wonderful background of experience and familiarity with Burbank and his work, Adrian would be a most interesting lecturer.

MERCY WORK ABROAD

MISS HELEN CLAY FRICK

Miss Helen Clay Frick, daughter of Henry C. Frick, the noted financier of New York, has returned from France, where she has been engaged in Red Cross work. Miss Frick performed many arduous duties and her associates said hundreds of emaciated French children had been saved through her efforts.

on this subject, for he has been one of the most competent educators of the Pacific Coast for many years. He knows how to dramatize facts and make them interesting and attractive a fund of humorous anecdote which lightens his discourse and a native oratorical ability which enables him to put over his message with convincing power.

USE WHEY FROM COTTAGE CHEESE

The whey from cottage cheese should always be saved and used.

Whey Breads

Use whey instead of water.

Whey Lemonade or Punch

Strain the whey and use instead of water. Sweeten with corn syrup.

Whey Ices

Strain through a cheese cloth. Add corn syrup and any crushed fruit such as berries, peaches, shredded pineapple, or lemon juice and freeze.

OTHER RECIPES

1 cup whey; ½ cup corn syrup. Mix whey and syrup and boil the mixture until it is of the consistency of strained honey. This syrup will keep indefinitely if properly bottled and is delicious for spreading on waffles or pancakes. Used a little thinner it makes an excellent pudding sauce. Since it requires no thickening, it is the easiest possible sauce to make.

Whey Jelly

1½ tablespoons gelatin soaked in ¼ cup water; ½ cup sugar; juice and grated rind of 1 lemon or orange; 1 pint whey strained through cheese-cloth.

Soak the gelatin in the cold water. Dissolve gelatin by setting cup in pan of hot water. Add gelatin, sugar, lemon juice and rind to whey. Turn the mixture into a mold or sherbet cups. Serve with crushed fruits, soft custard, or whipped cream.

YOUTH IS FINED FOR USING RIFLE

Beryl Yahn, 17, faced Juvenile Judge Frank M. Allen, Wednesday, on a charge of firing a rifle ball through the top of an automobile containing Henry Fitzpatrick, the offense taking place east of this city Tuesday night about 8:30.

The youth declared he was not aware that he was shooting toward a machine. He was fined $10 and the costs, which he paid.

WILMINGTON AFTER AVIATION FIELD

A good many Wilmington citizens are hoping that the Wilmington Commercial Club, which meets Friday night of this week, will take some action looking towards the securing of an official landing field for airplanes in or near this city.

It is to be hoped that at least a committee will be appointed to take up the matter with the officials at Wilbur Wright Field, Fairfield, and see what can be done. Flocks of airplanes are now visiting other cities nearby and they might as well come here, and undoubtedly will if they are taken care of.

The aviators at Wilbur Wright Field are being given a rapid course of training just now, for they are badly needed abroad, and their training is therefore being hurried along as fast as is possible with safety.—Wilmington News.

BIG GAS MAINS ARE CONNECTED SUPPLY ASSURED

The big gas mains of the Ohio Fuel Supply Company, one of which passes directly through Danville and the other crosses the country at a point immediately north of the Fayette-Madison line on the Danville pike, are now connected with the main furnishing this city with gas, so that if one of the lines breaks, or it becomes necessary for an reason to turn off the supply of one main, gas from the other main will be available to this city.

The mains are ten inches in diameter, and when the connections were made Friday afternoon, during which time the supply to Bloomingburg and this city was cut off, the gas supply for both Bloomingburg and this city is more fully guaranteed by having two main or trunk lines from which to obtain the supply.

The main furnishing this city with gas connects with the main passing through Danville, and crosses the other main of the Ohio Fuel Supply Company two miles south of Danville or 200 yards north of the Fayette-Madison line, where the connections were made, and the additional main made available to this city.

While the connections were made and the supply cut off, the big tanks or holders at the old artificial plant in this city, were filled in order to meet demands for gas while the main supply was cut off.

SPECIAL TRIP FOR O. W. U. GRADUATION ACTIVITIES

On next Tuesday and Wednesday the Ohio Wesleyan University holds the Annual Commencement exercises. It is expected that quite a number will go over from here for the Commencement, the alumni banquet and other festivities.

A special trip to Delaware for High School boys and girls from this city has been arranged and offers a two days outing of peculiar interest and pleasure.

Miss Edith Gardner, has agreed to make the trip as chaperon provided there are at least six in the party.

Through Professor W. W. Davies a well located comfortable private residence has been secured where six of the young women can be together over Tuesday night.

The pastor of Grace Church, Rev. Arthur P. Cherrington has already arranged for the purchase of a limited number of alumni banquet tickets one of which he will present to each member of the party making the trip.

The following invitation has been sent out from the O. W. U.

All High School pupils and any other younger or older people who may be interested are invited to take this trip. Persons going will leave here on the early 4:47 a. m. B. & O. train Tuesday, June 18th, returning at 6:13 p. m. Wednesday June 19th.

This will give the young people an opportunity to visit Monnet Hall and the other college buildings and to enjoy the alumni procession, the alumni banquet, the ball game, the evening promenade on the campus, the president's reception on Tuesday and the very inspiring commencement exercises Wednesday morning. Information as to the total cost of the round trip, including railroad fare, board, room, etc., can be secured from the pastor.

It will be a very fine educational, inspirational trip. Even those who do not decide to attend school there will have a fine opportunity to see what Delaware and the Ohio Wesleyan University are like and will remember the trip whenever hereafter they hear Delaware and the O. W. U. mentioned.

OPERATED UPON AT GRANT HOSPITAL

Mr. Edwards Hopkins of this city was operated upon Thursday at Grant Hospital in Columbus by Dr. J. T. Baldwin, for double inguinal hernia, also for chronic appendicitis. He had been a constant sufferer of these afflictions for sometime. His condition continued to grow worse until he decided to submit to an operation.

Dr. Blakley accompanied him and reports that he withstood the ordeal well and rallied rapidly from the anesthetic.

The seriousness of the operation however, is such that he will necessarily be kept in the hospital for several weeks.

Mrs. Hopkins remains with her son for the present.

CONGRESSMAN FESS AT JEFFERSONVILLE

Congressman Fess will speak at Jefferson Hall, Sunday afternoon, at 2:00 o'clock, delivering a patriotic address which is expected to pack the hall.

Congressman Fess has announced definitely that he will be at Jeffersonville at the appointed hour, and states that the reason for cancelling his previous engagement to speak at that place was due to the fact that he had received word that his son was on the point of leaving for France, and he hurried to an Atlantic Port to bid him farewell.

Mr. Fess will have a genuine message for everyone, and his address is free to everybody.

TALK ABOUT FISH!

The water supply for the big Cincinnati, Milford & Loveland traction line was suddenly shut off one day last week. Engineer Daniel Reese, investigating the pipes, found what first appeared to be the body of a child, which being brought to the surface proved to be an immense catfish which weighed fifty pounds. It had become fastened in the pipe and was unable to free itself. The plant gets its water from the Little Miami river and the fish, known as a bull-head catfish, was one of the largest ever taken from that stream. —Georgetown news.

"GUNNER LEWIS" JOKE ON GERMANS

(Associated Press Correspondence)
Amsterdam, June 10.—The German semi-official press bureau made an amusing blunder in an account of Baron von Richthofen's death which was published in all the German newspapers. In translating an account of his end from the English newspaper accounts, it stated that the German aviator was brought down by "Gunner Lewis," this being a careless translator's rendering of "Lewis gun." It was not until two days later that the German newspaper discovered the mistake.

The Cologne GAZETTE editorializes: "The news report attributed the shooting down of Von Richthofen to Gunner Lewis, and a number of German newspapers have helped the gallant aviator to widespread fame. To whoever the honor of Richthofen's defeat belongs, it certainly is not Gunner Lewis, for he owed his existence only to a mistake in the translation, and the bullet was fired by a Lewis gun."

"Gunner Lewis, however, will adorn a modest place in the history of the war, where he will be able to converse about the dangers of too rapid translation with General "Staff," who was one of the famous German newspaper blunders of the war of 1870."

OVERWORKED MAN

Couldn't Get Man to Fill His Place Had to Keep On. How He Did It
Saratoga, Cal.—"I am an engineer and overworked so I could not sleep, was tired all the time. I could not get a man to fill my place so had to keep on working. My druggist asked me to try Vinol and it built me up and strengthened me so I feel fine and sleep all right." Isaac W. Bradford.

There is no secret about Vinol. It owes its success in such cases to beef and cod liver peptones, iron and manganese peptones and glycerophosphates, the greatest body building and strength creating tonics.

We strongly recommend Vinol. Blackmer & Tanquary and Druggists Everywhere.

DEFENDERS TURN ON THE ENEMY

London, June 14.—Late dispatches indicate that the offensive movements of the Germans between Montdidier and Noyon and from south of the Oise river to the eastern fringe of the forest of Villers Cotterets are waning.

In the former region the fierce resistance of the French and the allied forces, for the time being at least, has checked the enemy at all points and on some sectors the allies have even turned vigorously upon the foe and forced him to cede ground he had gained.

Only one attempt apparently was made by the enemy to better his positions near Montdidier. Here he launched a violent counter attack from Courcelles to the north of Mery, on a front of about a mile and a half, but was badly cut up by the fire of allied guns and forced to retreat, leaving numerous dead and wounded on the field.

Likewise, south of the Aisne, the invaders are meeting with unexpected opposition, and, notwithstanding the large numbers of men they have thrown into the battle, their gains have been relatively small. East of Soissons they penetrated to the village of Laversine, but were unable to advance on any of the other sectors, although at one time north of Courcy French trenches were entered under the force of the impact. A counter attack resulted in those trenches being recaptured almost immediately.

The sole result of the enemy's attack on the Montdidier-Noyon line up to the present is that he has, by the violence of his attacks east of the Oise and the forced retreat of the French from the region west of the stream, blotted out the awkward Noyon salient and brought the battle front more into direct alignment with that beginning at the Aisne. And a terrible price has been paid by the Germans for this rectification of the line.

Whether they are prepared again to offer huge sacrifices in bending back the other salient from the Aisne to Villers Cotterets and bring the Picardy and Aisne battlefields into a more continuous front remains to be seen.

The Germans again have endeavored to force the Americans from positions captured northwest of Chateau Thierry, but again met with defeat and the loss of numerous men. The attack was delivered between Boursches and the Belleau wood, but nowhere was the enemy able to gain his objectives.

In addition to the large number of prisoners taken by the allied forces, 10 cannon, four big heavy weapons, and a large number of machine guns have fallen into their hands. The German war office admits the loss of some German guns, but asserts their forces have taken at least 150 allied guns and more than 15,000 prisoners.

In Macedonia the French troops have captured territory to a depth of nine and a half miles over an 11-mile front, occupied 11 villages and taken 319 of the enemy prisoners.

SENATE REJECTS LIMITED DEBATE

Washington, June 14.—The senate refused to limit its debate during the war. After receiving information that the president had not urged its adoption, the senate voted down, 41 to 34, a rule proposed by Senator Underwood of Alabama to cut short the speeches of the senators.

Spirited debate marked consideration of the resolution, but in spite of the determined opposition manifested during the discussion of the last few days, supporters of the rule had been confident of its adoption. When the vote was taken, however, a dozen Democratic senators unexpectedly joined the majority of Republicans opposing the measure. Pomeroy of Ohio voted for the amendment and Harding against it.

Defeat of the resolution leaves in full force the cloture rule adopted a year ago after the famous filibuster on the armed ship bill. That rule provides for restriction of debate if the senate approves by a two-thirds vote a petition signed by 16 members.

As originally introduced, the Underwood resolution provided that no senator might speak more than an hour on a bill or resolution or 20 minutes on an amendment, except by unanimous consent, but several days ago the senate approved an amendment by Senator Cummins of Iowa, allowing an hour and a half discussion and an extension upon a majority vote of the senate.

Various reasons are assigned for the defeat of the resolution. Prospective discussion of nation-wide prohibition and the application of the rule to treaties as well as to legislation were said to have been factors. Some members, however, said that Senator Underwood's explanation of the president's position was the deciding influence. Mr. Underwood told the senate that the president had not urged adoption of the rule, taking the position that he should not interfere with the senate's procedure. However, Mr. Wilson did say, according to Senator Underwood, that he believed adoption of the rule advisable should the senate view the situation in the same light.

Senator Sherman of Illinois charged the president had "commanded his senators" to pass the rule. The rule

W. S. S. BALL ROLLING ALL AROUND THE STATE

COLUMBUS, Ohio.—What the Ohio War Savings Committee terms the best piece of publicity yet arranged for the War Savings Stamp campaign in this state is the Ohio War Savings Ball, which started this week from Columbus on its tour of the state. The "feature" is due to return to Columbus early in August, after which it will be started on its trip to Washington.

The sphere—it is made of galvanized iron, 19 feet in circumference and weighs close to 1,000 pounds—was manufactured and donated to the Ohio War Savings Committee by the W. E. Lamneck Furnace Company, Columbus. It is being piloted over the state by an automobile truck, services of which have been donated jointly by the Garford Motor Truck Company, Lima and the Ohio Macadam Association, Columbus.

to limit debate, Senator Sherman said, "is in preparation for a treaty that will be submitted sooner than senators expect."

Senator Townsend of Michigan opposed the rule, saying it would stifle debate and that it was for the purpose of beginning an attack on the open forum. Questions that involve the life of the country are to come before the senate, declared Senator Townsend, arguing that limited debate would be a disaster.

WILSON'S REQUEST

Washington, June 14.—Henry Ford decided to accept the Democratic nomination for senator from Michigan, after being urged to do so by President Wilson. Mr. Ford issued this statement:

"At President Wilson's request I have decided to accept the nomination for senator from Michigan if tendered to me. Realizing that there are exceptional opportunities for service to our people during the present and coming readjustment, I am ready and willing to do everything I possibly can to assist our president in this great work. Every man must expect to make great future sacrifices and be prepared to serve wherever the greatest need exists."

SEVEN DIRECTORS FOR THE RAILROADS

Washington, June 14.—Seven directors, each managing all the roads in his territory and responsible to Director General McAdoo as to questions of general policy, probably will operate railroads of the United States under the present system of government control. This was indicated with the publication of an announcement by Director General McAdoo creating three additional operating regions dividing the territory west of Mississippi river. Lines east of the Mississippi had previously been divided into four districts and it was indicated that no new regions would be formed.

The new regions, their directors and the headquarters of the directors were announced as follows: North ern, R. H. Aishon, Chicago; central, Hale Holden, president of the Burlington, Chicago; and southwestern, B. F. Bush, receiver for the Missouri Pacific, St. Louis. It was said a district manager will be named later for the Pacific coast.

BATTLE LINE SITUATION ENCOURAGING

Washington, June 14.—Results of the fierce fighting between Montdidier and the Oise are viewed with general satisfaction in France, according to an official dispatch from Paris.

The situation on the left is regarded as particularly encouraging, the dispatch noting that the powerful German counter attacks against positions won by the French have been unsuccessful. Fourteen hundred prisoners from four divisions, several cannon and numerous machine guns were taken.

"The battle, which has been going on for five days," says the dispatch, "is continuing with the same intensity without bringing any notable change in the situation. On the left the Germans launched powerful counterattacks in order to retake the ground won by the French troops. But they only succeeded in still aggravating their losses. A total of 1,490 prisoners belonging to more than four different divisions remained in the hands of the French at the end of this brilliant affair, as well as several cannon and numerous machine guns.

"On the center the enemy again vainly tried to throw back the French troops on the Aisne, but he broke himself against an invincible resistance.

"On the right, after a whole series of fruitless and costly assaults, he succeeded in getting a footing on the south bank of the Matz, which is still eight kilometers away from Compeigne, the objective that he was supposed to reach on the second day of the battle.

"Between the Oise and the Aisne the French troops fell back to the south of the forest of Carlepont. The Germans only perceived this falling back 24 hours afterward. Suffice to say that it was carried out without the slightest difficulty. The right spread itself out to the south of the Aisne. The Germans attacked between the river and the angle north of the forest of Villiers Catterets in order to threaten Compeigne on the flank. The most violent struggles took place the whole day.

"The Germans only obtained a slight progress on the plateau west of Dommeries without being able to take either Ambigny or Saint Pierre Aigle. Thus on the whole of this front the enemy has been entirely held back. Besides his offensive tendencies are being considerably blunted. Heavily that he has suffered are beginning to take effect."

MAY CHANGE AGES FOR DRAFT SERVICE

Washington, June 14.—Changes in the draft law so as to include all men between the ages of 18 and 45 years, is forecast by well-informed congressional leaders. The new legislation, which would place the draft on the same basis as that of Great Britain and facilitate the operation of the interallied draft treaties, is expected to be launched in December. In the meantime, a campaign of education is to be conducted to inform the country of the need for raising the draft ages. These reasons include the probable depletion of Class 1 this year and the necessity for going into deferred classifications unless draft limits are broadened.

Under the proposed plan, as congressional leaders understand it, not all the men thus rendered liable for service would be put into the army. Military service, it is stated, would not go beyond 35 nor under 21, under the present plan, but the listing of men between 18 and 45 would provide first a vast reservoir of young men for training, who would be instantly available for military duty as they became 21, and, second, a great number of men capable of performing other service upon which the effectiveness of the army depends.

Columbus, June 14.—Governor Cox upon his return from Camp Lee, Va., spoke highly of the Buckeye division, which he visited there and which will soon leave for France. The governor was accompanied on the trip by Adjutant General George H. Wood. Speaking for the Buckeye state, Governor Cox delivered a farewell to each regiment of the division.

Attacks Fare Injunction.

Toledo, June 14.—The city filed a brief in federal court asking for immediate dismissal of the injunction granted several weeks ago, upon request of the Toledo Railways and Light company, restraining the city from interfering with an increase in streetcar fare. The city alleges that the court had no right to grant an injunction, in effect fixing a rate of fare.

THE JUNE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL is now ready at ROEDECKER'S NEWS STAND

FOCH CONTROLS THE SITUATION

London, June 14.—There is a growing optimism in the English newspapers as it becomes more apparent that the Germans have been checked. The Teutons certainly compelled the French to withdraw at the northern end of the salient on the right bank of the Oise, including Carlepont wood, but the French retain the long belt of territory north of the River Aisne and it is to threaten this from the rear that the Germans launched the new attack south of the Aisne on a very wide front.

At the same time it is pointed out by military critics the Germans were balked in their efforts to reach Compeigne frontally and they hoped to attain their object by this outflanking attack. Compeigne still is 18 miles west of the new operations with the forest of Compeigne intervening.

A favorable feature of the new developments is the general tendency of the fighting to rivet an increasing proportion of the German resources in the south. There is now no talk of a more formidable German attack in another direction.

It is contended here that Field Marshal Foch has the situation well under control.

BOLSHEVIKI OBJECT

London, June 14.—The Germans in the Ukraine began a new movement eastward on June 10, according to a Russian government wireless dispatch. Foreign Minister Tchitcherin has instructed Ambassador Joffe at Berlin to complain about the movement, which is on a width of about 45 miles on the Valuiki-Zpukovka station front, south of Moscow. It is charged that the movement is in violation of the line of demarcation agreed upon by the German government. The Germans are asked to retire to their old position.

In connection with the discovery of a revolutionary plot to overthrow the soviet faction, notices were posted in Petrograd ordering all inhabitants to register again with the authorities, under penalty of imprisonment or heavy fine. It was further ordered that licenses for the possession of fire arms must be renewed under penalty of death.
